A GOLD MEDAL AND FIRST-CLASS CERTIFICATE WERE AWARDED TO

FAVRE-LEUBA AND COMPANY'S WATCHES.

Three Firms only out of a large number of competitors in watches were awarded with Gold Medals, and FAVRE-LEUBA AND COMPANY are the only one of the three established in India.

THE excellent quality of our WATCHES, manufactured all in our Own Factory (Locle, Switzerland, established 1814) is so well recognised throughout India, that we need not further dwell on their merits.

Intending buyers will find with us a selection unequalled in India and surpassed by no Firm in England or the Continent.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 10.

CONSOLS in London yesterday recovered the previous day's decline of ⅛ and now stand at par. Rupee Paper is also quoted ⅛ higher at 81⅛ for Fours and 83½ for Fours-and-a-half. French Rentes in Paris remain at 106¼. Indian Exchange Banks are unaltered.

Cotton in Liverpool continues dull, the sales yesterday being only 7,000 bales, including 1,000 Surats. The only change in Reuter's prices, either spot or to arrive, is a decline of 1-16d. in Fine Comra. This, however, is purely a nominal quotation, the class having scarcely existed throughout the season. In New York ready Mid-Uplands are 1-16 lower at 11 cents, futures 4 points lower at 10·41 for November. The American Crop figures to date give the following comparisons :—

	1884.	1883.	1882.
Wednesday's receipts.....	1,000	1,000	900
Five days'	3,000	7,000	3,700
Total since 1st Sept.....	4,782,000	5,893,000	4,612,1.0

Our market here maintains the same stagnant condition, so far as actual business is concerned, but holders are as firm as ever for good, and good up-country Dholleras pressed before the monsoon are still held for Rs. 184. Receipts for the week ending to-day only make up a total of about 5,000 bales and are daily becoming less.

WHEAT is very firm at previous prices. Arrivals are small, and in the meantime dealers are averse to entering into forward contracts. No. 1 Pesay we call Rs. 27 per candy.

LINSEED continues in request to complete former contracts, and sellers now ask Rs. 5-10½ per cwt.

GOVERNMENT PAPER opened again with a very weak appearance, and for a time there were no buyers of Fours over Rs. 99½. During the day, however, a stranger tone became apparent and business was done up to Rs. 99 13-16, sellers holding at the close for Rs. 99¾. Fours-and-a-half are Rs. 102½.

SHARES keep very quiet and devoid of speculative movement. Spinning and Weaving Companies are generally unaltered. In Press Co...es, Dholleras have receded to Rs. 185 ; Fort to Rs. 2,975. Mofussils have recovered to Rs. 410. Bombay Saw Mills have advanced to Rs. 505. Treacher and Co. are firm at Rs. 1,200.

DEFECTIVE OR FAILING SIGHT.

THE sense of sight is so valuable that the importance of perfect and carefully adjusted spectacles can scarcely be overrated ; although the wearing of single eye-glasses should be strictly avoided, we have the highest medical authority, confirmed by daily experience, that imperfect glasses, together with the haphazard plan of selection generally employed, are frequent causes of irremediable injury to the sight ; and as no present economy can compensate for such a loss, it behoves all to be cautious how they are tempted to use the common pebble or glass spectacles now so generally sold.

For the guidance of those who are using pebble spectacles, it may be stated that when the pebbles are cut against the grain, and not polished on the principle which has been universally declared the most appropriate based on scientific research, they are injurious to the sight.

Unadvisable as the unnecessary wearing of spectacles undoubtedly is, the common notion that their use should be postponed to the utmost is proved beyond dispute to be a grave mistake.

Being in possession of all the optical instruments taken over by us from Dr. A. Manlat, we are not only in a position to suit their eye sight to perfection, but to supply different accommodations for each eye which so frequently are needed.

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1884.

THE House of Commons Railway Committee has brought its labours to a close somewhat unexpectedly, and its report is now probably undergoing final revision. Several gentlemen who were expected to give evidence, and amongst them Dr. W. W. Hunter, who went home for the purpose, have been shut out by the premature closing of the inquiry. This is to be regretted ; but the mass of evidence already taken is so exhaustive that no great practical inconvenience will arise from the failure to add to its amount. There would have been, perhaps, a certain advantage if Mr. A. M. Rendel, who has been for twelve years past Consulting Engineer to the Secretary of State for the Indian State Railways, had been amongst the excluded. We published a pretty full report of Mr. Rendel's copious evidence some days ago, and we can honestly say that, making due allowance for the laborious calculations and figures which were therein brought together, the chief value of the whole was that it made manifest at least one of the sources to which we owe many and serious mistakes imposed upon India by the Secretary of State in reference to Indian railways. Mr. Rendel is a fanatic for the narrow gauge. In reading his testimony one is surprised and gratified to find that there are two railways now to be made which he would have made on the broad gauge. These are the Jhausi-Cawnpore extension of the G. I. P. and the Nagpur-Sitarampur link of the Bombay and Calcutta direct line. With these exceptions he would have every other new line in India made on the narrow gauge. It is satisfactory, of course, to have the opinion of

The rule granted in the suit Wullubdas Waljee vs. Lukhmidas Khimjee, calling upon the defendant to show cause why he should not be restrained from allowing any one, who was not a member of the Hallai Bhattia caste (to which the parties belong), the use of the caste oart and utensils, came on yesterday for argument before Mr. Justice Scott. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant, as manager of the caste property, had exceeded his powers and hurt the religious feelings of his community by allowing Dr. Shantaram Narayen, "a fish-eating gentleman," to perform certain ceremonies at the oart. A large majority of the Hallai Bhattias were said to be against the defendant and wished to see him removed from the management. The Hon. Mr. Budroodeen appeared on behalf of the defendant and occupied nearly the whole day in reading affidavits made by about 140 deponents, stating that it was in accordance with the custom and usages of the caste to lend the oart to persons of a religious standing much inferior to that of Dr. Shantaram, and that though the doctor was allowed by his caste the use of fish at home, that article of food was forbidden at public feasts. Dr. Shantaram in his affidavit stated that as a Gaud Brahmin he belonged to a very high order of the priestly class, and that, as such, he was vastly superior to the Hallai Bhattias,—a statement which the latter met by affirming quite the contrary. After Mr. Inverarity had made a few observations on behalf of the plaintiff, the court adjourned till this morning. The case was watched with lively interest by Bhattias, who were present in large numbers.

A NOTIFICATION that the Governor in Council has been pleased to grant Mr. Justice Bayley three months' privilege leave from the 15th inst. appears in yesterday's Government Gazette. It is also notified that Mr. W. E. Hart, chief judge of the Small Cause Court, has been appointed to act as a judge of the High Court during the absence of Mr. Justice Bayley or until further orders. The following appointments have also been made:—Mr. R. Spencer to act as chief judge of the Small Cause Court, Mr. J. L. Warden to act as second judge, Rao Bahadoor Gunputrao Bh[illegible]kar to act as third judge, and Mr. Hormusjee Dadabhoy to act as fourth judge.

MR. M. MACMILLAN, B. A., professor of logic and moral philosophy in the Elphinstone College, has been appointed to act in the third grade during the absence of Mr. J. T. Hathornthwaite.

MR. JEHANGIR DOSSABHOY FRAMJEE, Assistant Collector of Customs, Bombay, has been allowed an extension of leave for six months on sick certificate.

SURGEON J. MCCLOGHRY has been appointed to the medical charge of the Roman Catholic Orphanage School, Poona, with effect from the 30th June.

CAPTAIN A. WAPSHARE, acting Cantonment Magistrate, Aden, has been appointed ex-officio assistant to the Political Resident.

The following appointments have been made:—Major Salmon to be Joint Administrator of Rajpipla, but to continue to act as Political Agent, Mahi Kantha; Major Stace to be Joint Administrator of Rajpipla during the absence of Major Salmon; Captain L. L. Fenton to act as second assistant to the Political Agent, Kattywar; and Mr. C. F. G. Lester to act, in addition to his other duties, as second in command, Sawantwadi Local Corps, during the absence of Captain Fenton.

LIEUT.-COL. A. M. PHILLIPS, Acting Political Agent at Cutch, has reported, for the information of His Excellency the Governor in Council, that [illegible]man, Jort Akhai, was struck dead by lightning on the 28th ultimo, while cultivating [illegible] field in the village of Kuteao in the Bhachao District.

A REVISED survey settlement has been introduced into 126 villages in the Bagalkot taluka of the Kaladgi Collectorate. The assessments imposed under this settlement are declared to be fixed for a period of thirty years.

THE Nasik Municipality propose making considerable improvements in the ventilation of the town by the widening of the streets; and a notification in yesterday's Government Gazette gives particulars the land and portions of buildings which are required to be taken by Government for that purpose at the expense of the Municipality.

THE Pandharpur Municipality in the Sholapore Zilla has applied to Government for permission to raise a loan of Rs. 60,000 for the erection of about [illegible] dharmashalas for the use of the pilgrims who visit the town periodically. The municipal revenues of the town are offered as security. It is proposed to repay the loan by half-yearly instalments of Rs. 5,000, including interest at six per cent., payable half-yearly, so that the sum shall be paid off, with interest, within eight years.

ON the 4th instant the Vehar lake contained 49·10 feet of water after a total rainfall of 13·94 inches as against 41·50 feet on the corresponding day of last year after a rainfall of 21·90 inches. In the Tulsi lake there were 29·10 feet of water as against 17·50.

THE following is the official summary of the Bombay Presidency Season Reports for the week ending July 8:—"Slight rain in parts of nine districts. Badly wanted for sowing operations in almost all districts. River falling in Sind. Cholera in parts of nine districts; fever, cattle-disease, and small-pox in several districts."

AT the beginning of last year the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce passed a Resolution pointing out the great importance of the Secretary of State and the Government of India having the means of observing the financial effect of the change which was being made in the mode of obtaining stores, by substituting articles of local manufacture for imported stores, and also that sufficient information should be supplied to the Secretary of State to admit of a comparison between the rates of India Office purchases and those for corresponding articles of Indian manufacture purchased in considerable quantities. The Governor-General in Council accordingly requested that returns for each Province and Department (including Military and Public Works) might be prepared, commencing from the year 1882-83, and submitted to the Government of India in the Department of Finance for transmission to the Secretary of State. The statements, it was observed, were intended merely to be returns of stores received or purchased, as the case might be, and it is not necessary that they should be agreed with the books of the departmental account officers, but each statement should be complete for the Province or Department to which it relates. With reference to these orders, the Bombay Government Gazette notifies that the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that all heads of offices should apply to the Accountant-General for any information they may require regarding the mode of preparing the annual returns of expenditure on stores in the Civil Departments not later than the 31st ultimo.

ACCORDING to a telegram received in Bangalore, Asil was first and Dictator second in the Arab Race at Newmarket.

IT is announced that the Punjab Government has abandoned all intention of making either Murree or Dalhousie its summer residence. Not that it will remain at Lahore all the year round. According to report Simla is to be the settled resort. The Englishman learns that, in view to securing fitting accommodation for taking up a larger portion of the Civil Secretariat from Lahore each season, the Public Works Department, Punjab, is negotiating for the purchase of the estate near Barnes Court in which the Adjutant-General's office is domiciled. The Judges of the Chief Court, when they hold their sittings at Simla, and who have hitherto had to put up with makeshifts, will also be accommodated in this building, as will likewise the Sessions Court during its Simla circuits.

In the Central Provinces the Criminal Procedure Code has put in a new light the conduct of those whose belief in witchcraft prompts them even to the sacrifice of life. A Mahar, in the Tirora tahsil of the Bhandara district, was suspected of having by means of the black art brought cholera to the village. At the instigation of the Malguzar he was taken by the villagers with his household gods to the river Chundan, which flowed close by. He was then forced to throw his gods into the river, and finally he was thrown in after them, and was drowned. But the believers in witchcraft found themselves arraigned under the Criminal Procedure Code, and twelve persons were convicted of participation in the crime. One was transported for life, and two were sentenced to long terms of imprisonment. The Malguzar was convicted of abetment of the crime, and sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment.

DR. GEORGE WATT, who organised and arranged the collections of products which formed so interesting a part of the Indian exhibits at the Calcutta Exhibition, is enjoyed in the preparation of a comprehensive dictionary of the economic products of this country. The work is one which necessarily entails considerable labour and scientific knowledge. Dr. Watt has, however, been very cordially supported by the Superintendent of the Imperial Press at Calcutta, who has already bestowed the utmost pains on the printing of the preliminary proofs and has given assistance without which the early completion of the dictionary would have been impossible. The work will be published in three volumes, and is intended to contain information obtainable about every economic product available from every known source, and to comprise also statistics of the production and commercial movement of each product up to date. If these intentions are carried out the dictionary cannot fail to be a work of much utility both in India and abroad.

REFERRING to the attitude of the Amir as regards the Demarcation Commission, the Allahabad paper says:—"We understand that though Abdur Rahman has not yet sent a final answer, there is good reason to believe he is willing that the demarcation should be carried out on the lines agreed upon, or to be agreed upon, by England and Russia. We may go further and say that he is pleased at the prospect of a joint Commission, and is prepared to do what he can to co-operate in the important work of defining his boundaries. It is doubtless a relief to him to find that this vexed question is really being taken up in earnest at last, and he seems ready to extend all possible respect and aid to our Commissioners. His views as to the passage of British officers and their escort through Afghanistan have yet to be ascertained."

A NEWS-LETTER from Kandahar to the Calcutta Englishman conveys several items of information. Several men belonging to the Atshakzai tribes, living whose territory the road from Thal to Kandahar runs, recently plundered a caravan near Mel, a place some two stages off Kandahar. The thieves were, however, caught and brought in. They have been sent on to Kabul. The dak which comes in from Kabul was stopped the other day by robbers in a village called Akhunt. The letter, carrier was seized, and the mail which he conveyed was carried off. An officer and soldiers have been despatched from Kandahar to Akhunt, and the inhabitants have deserted the village. A curious incident shows that the present ruler is actuated by jealousy of the "Pretender," Ayub Khan. One man found in Kandahar was in possession of a likeness of Ayub. He appears not to have kept this relic sufficiently hidden. For one morning he was hauled up before the kotwal, charged with high treason of a most [illegible] disgraceful attitude to be led through the bazaar. The Amir has imposed a tax on the Hotuki, a tribe connected in some way with the Ghilzais, who have hitherto boasted of having been free from taxation, and there is great discontent amongst them. One of the Amir's officers stationed at Khelat-i-Ghilzai, a subadar, was found one morning murdered, and the murderers have not yet been apprehended.

IN the Hindoo Patriot appears a complaint against the native press on the dreary monotony in the character of its speculations. The editor denounces his contemporaries in good round terms for their neglect of national education, of national religion, of national literature, and of the subjects of surpassing interest even within the narrow ranges of politics to which they restrict themselves. And then, in the very finest frenzy, the writer thus sums up the iniquity of his fellows:—

"That which made the Dacian and the Illyrian the arm of the Roman Empire in the age of its greatest expansion, that which made Indian from the banks of the Hydaspes march in the legions of Xerxes to the plains of Attica, that which in 1814 brought the bow and arrow of the Cossack within the sight of the walls of Paris, that which made the poor mountaineer of Switzerland subvert the empire of a Charles the Bold, is a life which does not command the sympathy of the local editor. What a life it would be for the youth of Bengal if, instead of thrashing policemen at the gates of the High Court or mauling the helpless captain of a passenger steamer at Burranagore, they could seek in a body to storm some future Russian fortification at Merv, or lay themselves in a death-bed of glory on a yet unfought field of some future Maiwand. We need not multiply instances. Life is many-sided, and no life is great or glorious or happy unless it is many-sided. It is a sympathy with a many-sided life, and aspiration for all that is great and good and glorious in life, that we recommend to our native contemporaries and to our countrymen."

Even if this fails to rouse his brethren, surely it shall be said of this writer, as Artemus Ward has recorded of another, "He kin sling ink, he kin."

CONFIRMATION of the satisfactory state of affairs at Hyderabad is furnished by the Secunderabad correspondent of the Pioneer, who asserts that what is chiefly wanted by the State is rest. "Important reforms are working steadily upwards, business is beginning to be looked upon as business, and those who point at the juvenility of the Nizam and his Minister must necessarily drop this cry as the years go on. The youth of the latter certainly caused a twofold fear. The first that he would commit himself by hasty promises with the section which aided him to rise, and so feel bound by gratitude, or less worthy motives, to redeem them, even if opposed to his diplomatic opinions; the second that he might become too morbidly centred in himself, so that what his intelligence perceived without hesitation to be vicious or foolish in another, he would be incapable of judging of correctly when emanating from himself. Happily, these fears have been averted, and the present Sir Salar has publicly stated upon more than one occasion that he relies, as did his great father, upon the Supreme Government for guidance. Economy, not the mere pretence—for the first auction of some horses and carriages of H. H. the Nizam actually took place last week—appears to be really the order of the day, and as any radical change affecting people's salaries always produces heartburnings, there is naturally a sensation of insecurity among the European officers employed about the State, who feel the ground being swept from under their feet by this stream of reform. It is not always those who cry the loudest, however, who are most hurt." With respect to the Nizam's regular army, the same correspondent has the temerity to rebuke his editor for having coupled the troops with Scindia's, and described the "pick" of them as "a very valuable reserve," when they are in fact a small compact army, excellently trained and equipped. At the last feudal gathering of the regular and irregular troops the writer adds that there was not a single man who did not appear ready to take the field at a moment's notice. Again, "Whether these re-formed and irregular troops constitute a source of danger or support to the State it is not for me to say, but the former, the regulars especially, cannot be treated as a mere bodyguard kept up for the purpose of pageantry alone." These consist of 2 horse batteries of artillery and 1 bullock battery, the African cavalry guards, 3 regiments of lancers, and 6 of infantry; the total strength being 1,635 cavalry, 521 artillery (including non-combatants), and 4,372 infantry, costing the State about Rs. 6,60,600 annually.

DETAILS have reached the Allahabad paper of the fighting which took place in Agror, on the Hazara frontier, to the north-west of Abbottabad, last month. Two hundred Akazais and Khan Khel Hassanzais attacked Beliyan at the same time that the Parari Sayads and Chigharzais made a demonstration against Dilbori. At Beliyan the Agroris lost 4 killed and 14 wounded, while the enemy left 3 dead behind them. A detachment of British troops from Ughi were present, but were not engaged, as some friendly Hassanzais under Hashim Ali came to the Agroris' assistance and drove off the Akazais. There were no losses at Dilbori.

CAPTAIN G. C. PARKER, of the Sind Volunteer Rifle Corps, has been granted six months' leave of absence, and Lieut. W. Aves, of the same corps, has been permitted to resign his commission.

THE following general rules are laid down for the selection of candidates for the apothecary class, and are to be strictly enforced:—Candidates are to be selected from European and Eurasian lads only. Natives of India, Goanese, Parsis, &c., &c., are ineligible for admission into the Subordinate Medical Department as candidates for the apothecary class, in accordance with Government Resolution No. 1199, dated March 26, 1874, Military Department. Every candidate is required to furnish a certificate setting forth that he is either a European or Eurasian, as the case may be, and the place of his birth; his baptismal certificate should also be attached. A certificate according to a prescribed form must be declared and signed before a duly qualified magistrate only, and must be attached to the examination papers of the candidate, without which a candidate will bedebarred admission into the service.

THE services of Surgeon W. H. Burke, M. D., I. M. D., have been replaced at the disposal of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of Bombay.

CAPTAIN SAWYER, of the Bombay Staff Corps, has been permitted to return to duty.

AN extension of leave for three months has been granted to Lieut. J. S. Ashby, of the Bombay Staff Corps.

LIEUT. G. D. GILES, of the Bombay Staff Corps, has been permitted by the Secretary of State to resign the service.

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORT.

SIMLA, July 9.—The barometric changes are irregular and are generally slight or moderate. The depression noticed over North Bengal yesterday seems to have travelled southwards during the past twenty-four hours, and now overlies the whole of Bengal and the north of the bank. It has occasioned some change in the wind direction in its neighbourhood, but elsewhere there is no important alteration. The rainfall area is not extending, nor are the amounts generally increasing, but there has been a fall of one inch at Secunderabad and half an inch at Sholapore. The whole of North-Western India and a large part of the Dekkan is without rain. Rain to-day:—Rutnagheri and Goa, 2 inches, Lucknow, Allahabad, Purneah, Secunderabad and Masulipatam, over 1 inch. Previously:—Moulmein 3 inches; Jullundur, Jounpore, Mirzapore, and Fyzabad, over 1 inch.

FEMALE MEDICAL EDUCATION IN BOMBAY.

THE writer of the paragraph in the Lancet on the subject of Female Medical Education in Bombay, which called forth replies from Dr. W. Grey and Dr. Lyon, has written the following rejoinder:—

Sir,—I should notice, and do so gladly, the disavowal by Professors Gray and Lyon, of Bombay, which you publish to-day, that what I write about Dr. Vandyke Carter's support of the Female Medical Education scheme having "aroused the indignation of his colleagues, who were inclined to view the scheme with disfavour and would like to see it fall to the ground," was not based on the real facts of the case. It is very satisfactory for the profession to learn that Drs. Gray and Lyon, and others connected [with the College, did not oppose, but rather supported, as they should have done, the re-election of so distinguished a luminary. But, at the same time, I hold that those gentlemen should have taken steps to refute what was given currency to in the Indian papers, from which my information was, in the main, obtained. The Bombay correspondent of a leading paper, the Pioneer, had in the course of a news-letter, made certain serious reflections on the attitude of members of the profession in Bombay. Matters was distinctly and plainly made of the circumstance on which I had occasion to comment, not only with regard to Dr. Blanc, but also in regard to the other professors and medical men in Bombay to indicate that (and I might just as well be plain-spoken) the anti-Vandyke Carter clique were hoodwinking, if not giving passive support to, male students in their opposition to female students. Such once got a chemist and got a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to the taste, it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa. Whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine Dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle. Wholesale by the Proprietors, Jesus a Drug Co [illegible] say, Ludwell, Farringdon Street, London, E.C. Sole Consignees, Ansar, Harford and Co., 210, High Holborn, London.

I am not a supporter of the medical education of women, who, I believe, have their proper sphere of doing good work in the direction of nursing the sick, but still my contention and support of Dr. Vandyke Carter were from a broader standpoint than this. I should like to hear, with reference to this matter, what Dr. Vandyke Carter himself may have to say before I am in a position to form an accurate conception of the contretemps in all its bearings.

VETERINARY COLLEGE AND HOSPITAL IN BOMBAY.

THE following papers are being circulated with respect to the proposed establishment of a Veterinary College and hospital in Bombay:—

No. 4,421.

Revenue Department.

Bombay Castle, 2nd June 1884.

Read again Government Resolution No. 5,806, dated 6th August 1883.

Letter from the Surgeon General with the Government of Bombay, No. 4,393, dated 27th August 1883:—

"With reference to the latter portion of paragraph 3 of Government Resolution No. 5,806, dated August 6th, 1883, I have the honour to state, for the information of Government, that two lecturers could be provided from the Assistant Surgeon Class on the pay of rank plus a staff allowance of Rs. 50. (2.) "I am not in a position to recommend candidates for these appointments from the Hospital Assistant Class, as in my opinion the men composing it do not possess the necessary qualifications."

Letter from the Surgeon General with the Government of Bombay, No. 4,664, dated 17th September 1883:—

"With reference to memorandum No. 6,746, dated September 11th, 1883, Revenue Department, I have the honour to state, for the information of Government, that two Assistant Surgeons can be spared for employment in the proposed Veterinary College."

Memorandum from the Acting Municipal Commissioner for the City of Bombay, No. 6,710, dated 26th September 1883—Submitting, with reference to Government Resolution No. 5,806, dated 6th August 1883, copy of the following letter, No. 1,331, dated 19th September 1883, from the Secretary, Bombay Town Council:—

"The undersigned has the honour to state that at the meeting of the Town Council held this day, it was Resolved—That, in the event of the Director of Public Instruction including in the Budget (Municipal) estimates for education a sum of money towards the cost of providing instruction at the new Veterinary College, the Town Council will be prepared to consider the propriety of recommending the Corporation to sanction a grant on that account. 'That a copy of the Solicitors' opinion now read be furnished to Government.'"

Memorandum from the Chief Secretary to Government in the Political Department, No. 5,157, dated 19th October 1883:—

"The undersigned presents compliments to the Secretary to Government in the Revenue Department, and with reference to paragraph 6 of Government Resolution No. 5,806, dated the 6th August last, in that department, has the honour to forward herewith, original, the replies received from the Political Agents, Kathiawar, Kolhapur, and Southern Maratha Country, and Mahi Kantha, on the subject of pupils to be sent by Native States to the proposed Government Veterinary College."

Demi-official letter from the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, dated 7th December 1883:—

"The Chief Commissioner of these Province, has under consideration a scheme for encouraging Hospital Assistants to acquire such a knowledge of veterinary practice as would enable them to be of service as cattle doctors.

"I am, therefore, desirous to ascertain whether any suitable training school, so far as diseases of cattle are concerned. I have consulted Mr. Lamb, the Superintendent of Horse-Breeding Operations, on the subject, and he has sent me some printed papers referring to a Veterinary College and Hospital which it is proposed to establish in Bombay.

"Amongst them is Resolution No. 5,806 of your Government (Revenue Department), dated 6th August 1883, in which it is mentioned (paragraph 4) that definite orders would issue on the receipt of a report from the Government of India on the subject of funds. I should be accordingly obliged if you could kindly inform me whether this reply has been received, and how the matter now stands.

"It is possible that if the College was started it might derive a considerable number of students from these Provinces."

Letter from the Officiating Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department, No. 61 c., dated 11th December 1883:—

"I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter to the address of the Military Department, No. 5,807, dated the 6th August last, in which you state that it is proposed to establish a Veterinary College and Hospital at Bombay in connection with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and enquire whether the Government of India would be willing to grant some pecuniary assistance. (2) In reply, I am to say that His Excellency [the Governor General in Council regrets that he is unable to comply with this request, as this charge is one which should be borne exclusively by Provincial Revenue under the financial arrangements of 1882. As far as the Military Department is concerned, its wants appear to be sufficiently met by the Veterinary School (Military) at Poona, and the Government contemplates that the College would doubtless prove of much utility, yet it must be regarded as an institution primarily designed to benefit the Presidency. (3) With regard to the Lahore Veterinary College, which is alluded to in paragraph 4 of your letter, I am to say that the Government of India agreed to assist it in consideration of the advantages which it would afford to the Military Department in the Commissariat Branch. The charge of the College, however, has since the decentralization scheme of 1882 been provincialized, and no portion of the expense is now borne by the Imperial Revenues."

Letter from the Agent to the Governor-General at Baroda, No. 99, dated 4th, January 1884:—

"I have the honour to enquire with reference to your letter No. 9,348 'dated 20th ultimo, with the probable cost will be of maintaining a pupil in the proposed Veterinary College at Bombay."

Letter from the Officiating Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal Municipal Department (Medical), No. 112, dated 16th January 1884:—

"I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 9,347, dated the 20th ultimo, in which you request that the Government of Bombay may be informed of the action taken by the Government of Bengal on the report and proposals of the Calcutta Committee appointed to consider the question of establishing a Veterinary School for Bengal.

"2. In reply, I am desired to state, for the information of His Excellency the Governor in Council, that the question is still under the consideration of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal."

Letter from the Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department, No. 625 t.m., dated 19 May 1884:—

"I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 3,610, dated the 6th instant, enquiring whether the question of establishing a Veterinary School for Bengal has been finally decided. 2. In reply, I am directed to say that the consideration of the question has, for the present, been postponed on financial grounds."

Resolution.—Since the issue of the orders contained in Government Resolution No. 5,806, dated August 6th, 1883, it has been ascertained that the Government of India are not prepared to give any pecuniary aid towards the establishment of the proposed Veterinary College and Hospital in Bombay; that two Assistant Surgeons on the Government establishment can be made available for duty as teachers; that the Bombay Municipality will probably consent to grant a contribution towards the maintenance of the College if in the Municipal budget estimates of the Director of Public Instruction provision for this purpose is included; and that the Kathiawar States would send about 12 pupils, the Idar State 1 pupil, and the Kolhapur State some pupils to the Hospital: no reply as to the number of pupils likely to be sent by the Baroda State has yet been received.

(2.) The cost of the buildings connected with the Hospital to be built by Government was estimated by the Poona Committee at Rs. 12,000. This calculation was framed on an estimate prepared by the Executive Engineer at the Presidency. The charge for furniture, books, instruments, models, &c., was reckoned by the Committee at Rs. 4,000. The initial and non-recurrent cost, to be defrayed by Government may therefore be taken as being Rs. 16,000, and this outlay Government will undertake to bear.

(3.) In their report the Committee called attention to the fact that Mr. Dinsha Manekji Petit had stipulated as a condition on which he made his generous gift of the Sewri-road property to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, that, in the case of the Society being unable to maintain the hospital and abandoning the site, "the lands and the buildings that may be at the time standing thereon shall be reconveyed to the donor or his lineal heirs." The Collector of Bombay should be desired to ask Mr. Dinsha Manekji Petit to extend to Government the conditions made with the Society, and to agree not to enforce the stipulation above mentioned, if, in the event of the failure of the Society, Government are prepared to maintain the hospital.

(4.) The Governor in Council is of opinion that at starting at least it will suffice to provide for 15 free studentships, and 15 stipendiary studentships. Each stipendiary student would receive Rs. 5 per mensem. For ordinary students the college fee might be fixed at Rs. 60 per annum, and native States and local bodies sending students to the College would be required to pay the fees of the students so sent.

(5.) In accordance with the recommendations of the Committee the cost of the teaching staff of the Institution will be borne by Government with such aid as the Bombay Municipality and other local bodies may be willing to give its strength and cost would be as follows:—

1 Superintendent @ Rs. 900 salary + Rs. 60 house rent.	...	Rs. 960
1 Assistant Superintendent @ Rs. 300	...	,, 300
2 Assistant Surgeons as lecturers with the pay of their rank and a staff allowance of Rs. 50 each	...	,, 100
1 Farrier	...	,, 80
1 Clerk	...	,, 49
2 Peons @ Rs. 10 each	...	,, 20

giving a total charge of Rs. 1,500 per mensem or Rs. 18,000 yearly. To this sum would have to be added Rs. 900 on account of scholarships, and Rs. 1,000 for repairs, thus raising to Rs. 19,900 the annual expenditure. Allowing Rs. 1,100 for contingent and miscellaneous expenses the total cost would be brought up to Rs. 21,000.

(6.) The Governor in Council is of opinion that the Bombay Municipality should be requested to consent to bear one-fourth of the above cost, or Rs. 5,250 per annum, and the Director of Public Instruction should be accordingly directed to address the Municipality at once in this sense and to report the result of his reference.

JOHN NUGENT,
Secretary to Government.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS:—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to the taste, it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa. Whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine Dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle. Wholesale by the Proprietors, Jesus a Drug Co [illegible] say, Ludwell, Farringdon Street, London, E.C. Sole Consignees, Ansar, Harford and Co., 210, High Holborn, London.

BOMBAY.

TO-DAY.

Municipal Corporation, 3 p.m.
Bombay Gymkhana, ladies' afternoon.
Polo on maidan, 5-30 p.m. (weather permitting).
Band, Marine Battalion, Esplanade, evening.

VESSELS ARRIVED.—The following vessels arrived on the 9th:—Altmore (s), from London; and Carder (s), Bussorah. Yesterday:—Carthage (s), this massive piece of plate would have been presented to Mrs. Carmichael had she been the wife of nobody in particular, instead of being the wife of the senior member of Council. Mrs. Carmichael took a good deal of spasmodic interest in female education, but there was nothing very surprising in this, and she very properly disclaimed her right to the excessive laudation which was bestowed on her in connection with her benevolence. We do not pretend to say that such a casket is beyond the intrinsic merits of the case; but we may contend that it is a recognition, not so much of Mrs. Carmichael's good nature, as of her relationship to her husband; and it is in regard to the latter point that the acceptance of such a tribute of respect is inexpedient, and, we think, illegal.

INDIAN IDYLLS.*

In ancient India the Muse of History sat idle, and her representative is her sister of Epic Poetry, who thus in Aryan India wields, unaided, the stylus and the roll. Even at the present day legend with the natives of Hindustan fills the place of history; dates and the philosophic import of the sequence of events are matters ignored and uncared for, while in their place the Hindu holds dear two epic poems of portentous length, the Mahabharata and the Ramayana. In these two poems mythology, ethics, and philosophy, form the warp on which the woof shows forth ancient gods and kings; but the whole structure stands so compacted together, that as yet it has been impossible to separate the historical element from that which is fabulous. Still, it may be expected that from a critical examination of these poems, and a minute analysis of the several stages of their construction, scholars will eventually dispel the obscurity which now envelops the early social, and political history of India. The inordinate length to which Indian epics run is hardly the less surprising even when we remember that Calliope has here to bear the burden of her sister Clio. Western readers will feel inclined to demur before undertaking the perusal of a poem of 220,000 lines—seven-fold greater in bulk then the Iliad and Odyssey taken together"—and hence not unwelcome the volume of episodes from the Mahabharata which Mr. Arnold has selected out of this gigantic [illegible] ation, and rendered for our benefit into [illegible] verse.

[illegible] ciats have long since demonstrated that in [illegible] we are near akin to the Hindus. And we [illegible] further in reading these "Indian Idylls" [illegible] allied are all nations of [illegible] with which [illegible] Aryan stock [illegible] they regard women, [illegible] support that strong men in [illegible] will find in the devotion of wifely [illegible] Indian epics the wife is the helpmate [illegible] equal of her lord, not the chief of his domestics, far less his slave. In prosperity she is represented as his companion, not his toy; in adversity she is a support, not an encumbrance. Among the Arab tents the birth of a girl was deemed a misfortune. On the other hand, in the opening poem of Mr. Arnold's collection, when the announcement of the birth of a daughter is made, the poet exclaims:—

A girl, my liege!
Better than many boys!

and throughout the poem it is the wife who is the heroine, consoling and inciting her husband to virtue, of whom

The wisest doctors say, "In every woe
No better physic is than wifely love."
. . . neither is there friend
To sad men given better than a wife.

And all this lends a charm in these old Indian songs which is lacking in even that which is highest and greatest in Arab or Hebrew literature. Mr. Arnold's present volume contains eight poems from the Mahabharata, of which the longest, called "Nala and Damayanti," illustrates the striking peculiarities the striking peculiarities of the Hindu epic, both in its high ideal of womanhood, and in its exuberant phantasy.

Damayanti is the peerless daughter of the Raja Bhima, to whom the wild swans have borne the message of love from Prince Nala. The Princess grows to womanhood and suitors throng the palace gates of the Raja Bhima. Among these are "the Immortal Four," the gods Indra, Agni, Varuna, and Yama, who have chosen Prince Nala as their [illegible] would although they know him to be their rival. [illegible] secret interview, and after the message of the [illegible] has been delivered, the Princess still promises to [illegible] her hand on Nala, loving him above all gods and men; but on the appointed day, when the Princess has to make her choice among the suitors, she is much perplexed at seeing before her five Nalas instead of one, each the counterpart of the other "in form and garb and visage," for the gods have all presented themselves under the likeness of their herald. Damayanti sore perplexed, at last resolves "to make the gods themselves her help at need." In her prayer she implores them to assume themselves known to her, conjuring them by the sincerity of her love for Nala, and by the priority of her secret troth to him at the time when the wild swans had brought the message of his love, long before the gods had despatched him by their herald. The immortals are won by her "singleness of soul and constancy." She now distinguishes among the five Nalas, four of whom she notes that,

Shadowless they stood; with unwinking eyes,
And skins which never moist sweat; their feet
Light gliding o'er the ground, not touching it;

and hereupon drawing "modestly nigh" she gives to the true Nala the bright chaplet.

So choosing him, him only, whom she named
Before the face of all to be her lord.

The nuptials take place; and at the subsequent marriage feast, in token of approval, the "Lords of Life" bestow eight noble boons, duly enumerated; after which the gods ascend to the skies, the Rajas and Maharajas depart their several ways, and Nala takes home his bride. And now, as the four Immortals are voyaging heavenwards, they [illegible] the two demons Dwapara and Kali, who [illegible] their way to present themselves among the suitors of the Princess. Indra informs the [illegible] that the choice has been made, and that, [illegible] the goodwill of the gods, a mortal has been [illegible] Prince Nala, [illegible] [illegible] husband of the Princess. On hearing of this [illegible] jealous wrath, resolves to bring a curse [illegible] Nala, and he thereupon repairs to Nala's house [illegible] his time and watch. Twelve years roll by, [illegible] wicked Kali, blameless, gives the demon no [illegible] at length, in a moment of [illegible] ce passes to prayer,

[illegible] ssed offending; Kali straight.
[illegible] Nala, entering him.

The evil spirit [illegible] causes the Prince's brother to challenge him at dice. Nala becomes possessed by the passion of gaming; and, the dice being bewitched, cast after cast goes his long, long, palace, steeds, and royal robes, all are lost, and, not even his faithful wife, can persuade him to desist. At last the Prince is beggared, and the brother with scornful laugh, challenges him to one more throw, urging him, seeing that all his kingdom's wealth is gone to stake his wife Damayanti in order to win back his lost possessions. But Nala at length rises, uttering no word, only glaring in wrath upon his mocker.

Then, his rich robes and jewels stripping off,
Uncovered, with one cloth, mid wailing friends,
Sorrowful passed he forth, his great state gone,
His Princess with one garment following him,
Piteous to see!

The two wander forth into the wilderness, she uncomplainingly following in his footsteps, solacing him, and trying to charm his griefs away, while suffering herself the pangs of hunger and thirst in the wild waste which is now their home. After a time Damayanti, worn out with fatigue, falls asleep, with Nala watching beside her; and the Prince—still possessed "by Kali's cursed mischiefs," and imagining that at his side suffering alone can be the Princess's lot—resolves to abandon her, feeling assured that once freed from him, she would find her way back to her own people. After many moments of anguish, and twice stealing back for one last look at his sleeping wife, he finally hurries off through the forest dreare, still Thinking upon the sweet face he had left.

Damayanti awakes to find herself alone, thinks that perchance it is some mistimed jest, but at length, after fruitless search, realizes that she is abandoned, and sinks down mad with grief, longing for death.

It would carry us too far were we to detail how the old Raja Bhima sends out his Brahmns in quest of his daughter and son-in-law, how they find the Princess and how they are at length discovered. Not the least charming of Mr. Arnold's pages are those which describe, after the Princess has been found how the Brahman messenger, wandering from town to town, forces Nala to discover himself by singing the verses composed by the Princes:—

By every husband nourished and protected
Should every wife be. Think upon the wood!
Why these thy duties hast thou so neglected,
Prince! that was called noble and true and good?
Art thou become compassionate no longer,
Shunning, perchance, my fortune's broken wing?
Ah! husband, love is most! let love be strong!
"Kindness is chief of duties," thou didst say.

Our extracts from this charming [illegible] poem have usurped more of our space than [illegible] poem have intended, and we must refrain [illegible] we had originally brief analysis of the [illegible] from offering even a Arnold's present work [illegible] Mr. the same in all. "The moral inculcated is Savitri, although [illegible] Love and Death" tells how prince doomed to forewarned, chooses to marry a how when the fatal [illegible] at the end of the year, and God of Death [illegible] ful hour arrives, even Red Yama "The Tamer," is overcome by her constancy. In [illegible] Enchanted Lake," the self-denial of the king wins back to life his dead brothers. Of the five remaining poems, the most remarkable is perhaps that entitled "The British of Death"; but our readers must be referred to our author's text in order that they may enjoy for themselves, in the cadence of the English version, the "old-world charm of the Indian tale."

In Mr. Arnold's versification there is little to which we can take exception, and our extracts will have shown that the present work the poetic talent which produced the "Light of Asia" has not failed him at his need. In these "Indian Idyll," however, we should have been glad of a few explanatory notes. Mr. Arnold's readers are the public of England and America, not of necessarily Sanskritists; they may therefore find some difficulty in understanding what, for instance, was Damayanti's Swayamvara, and the picture presented to their minds by Gudaksa throwing Karna, Naracchas, and Nalikas is certain to be left ill-defined in its details. A few short notes for the uninitiated would have made all this clear, and have enlightened the reader as to the attributes of the different gods of the Hindu pantheon. Furthermore, to our mind it is hardly fitting to incorporate Sanskrit words (without interpretation) in English verse. To Lalla Rookh and Hiawatha these footnotes for these ignorant of Pawnee and Persian; but how is the "general reader" to guess what may be the import of "Swayamvara" and "Ahoswid!" These details notwithstanding, we feel bound in conclusion to express our hearty appreciation of this present instalment of "Indian Idylls," and also to add a hope that this may not be the last time that our author's countrymen will be charmed by his translations from those two little-known epics of Hindustan which "have constituted the library, the newspaper, and the bible, generation after generation, for all the succeeding and countless millions of Hindu people."—Saturday Review.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Counsel for the delicate.—Those to whom the changeable temperature is a protracted period of trial should seek the earliest opportunity of removing all obstacles to good health. This cooling Ointment, perseveringly rubbed upon the skin, is the most reliable remedy for overcoming all diseases of the throat and chest. Quinsey, relaxed tonsils, sore throat, swollen glands, ordinary catarrh, and bronchitis, usually prevailing at this season, may be arrested as soon as discovered, and every symptom banished by Holloway's simple and effective treatment. This Ointment and Pills are highly commended for the facility with which they successfully contend with influenza; they allay in an incredibly short time the distressing fever and teasing cough.

[THE BROACH COTTON COMPANY, Limited,
(in Liquidation.)
TO CAPITALISTS.

Sale of Ginning Factory at Broach and of Press and Ginning Factory at Pallej.

Under instructions from Messrs. G. W. READ and B. F. CAMA, the liquidators of the above Company, Messrs. CRAWFORD & Co. will, on WEDNESDAY, the 23rd day of July next, at 3 o'clock p.m., put up for sale by auction at their rooms in Bombay the undermentioned properties, which belong to the above Company.

A pucka-built ginning factory at Broach with office accommodation, store-rooms, weighing shed, and a substantial manager's bungalow, together with the land attached to the factory, containing an area of about one and a half acres more or less, part of which is freehold and part leasehold, held for a term, of which 41 years are unexpired.

The factory contains 90 PlattMacarthy's double-action gins, two horizontal high-pressure steam engines of 30 nominal horse-power, by Benjamin Hick and Son, two boilers, shafting for driving the gins, seed cotton openers, mechanics' shop with tools and two excellent lathes, also two half presses, fire-engine, cart weighing machine and a well-found store-room as per inventory to be found with the auctioneers.

This factory was worked by Messrs. Ralli Brothers last year and inspected and reported on by Mr. Alcock, of Bombay, whose report can be seen at the office of the liquidators, 6, Apollo-street, Bombay.

A ginning factory and labourers' sheds at Pallej near Broach, built on iron columns, walled with corrugated iron sheets, containing 60 Flatt Macarthy's double-action gins, two separate steam engines by W. and A McConie of Glasgow (15 nominal horse-power) and Hick and Son of Bolton (12 nominal horse-power), two boilers by Simpson and Co. and Hick and Son, five seed cotton openers, leather belting three half-presses, donkey engine, cart weighing machine, roller pressing machine, self-acting 10-inch centre-screw cutting lathe, fire-engine complete, and sundry other tools and gear, together with the land attached to the factory and press-house, containing an area of about three acres and four goontas, more or less held on leases for terms of which 36 years are unexpired.

This factory was also worked by Messrs. Ralli Brothers last year and inspected and reported on by Mr. Alcock, of Bombay, whose report can be seen at the office of the liquidators, 6, Apollo-street, Bombay.

Also at Pallej.

To be sold either separately or jointly with the ginning factory, one strong combined steam lever felt press by George Forrester and Co., Liverpool. It is worked by a large steam cylinder supplied by a vertical multitubular boiler about 40 horse-power. The press-house is built on iron columns walled and roofed in with corrugated iron sheets. This was also inspected and reported on by Mr. Alcock, of Bombay, whose report can be seen at the office of the liquidators.

Particulars and conditions of sale can be seen after the 1st July at the office of the liquidators or solicitors, Messrs. Little, Smith, Frere and Nicholson, in Meadow-street, or at the liquidator's office.
